Perry Johnson Registrars, Inc. Announces ISO 50001 Certification Offering

Troy, MI March 10, 2023 — Perry Johnson Registrars, Inc. is pleased to announce their approval to offer accredited ISO 50001 certification to clients.

Perry Johnson Registrars, Inc. is now able to offer organizations a new certification standard under the umbrella of their Environmental Health & Safety programs ó ISO 50001. Applicable to companies of all sizes and industries, this standard centers around energy efficiency and the development of an Energy Management System (EnMS).

Currently in its second edition as of 2018, ISO 50001 caters to the growing global interest in ögreenö companies and those sensitive to issues of energy conservation. Some benefits possible through certification include:

- Reduced costs through energy efficiency
- Satisfying/meeting legislative or self-imposed carbon emissions targets
- Reduced reliance on fossil fuels
- Enhanced company reputation as ögreenö or environmentally responsible

As with other ISO standards, ISO 50001 is easily integrated with everything from its fellow EHS-related standards to ISO 9001 or ISO 14001 in order to develop a robust management system covering every facet of a business. For more information on ISO 50001 certification, reach out to PJR today.
